

Our School Rules:

At Nansledan we use the language of 'Ready, Respectful, Safe' to describe our behaviour expectations. These sit alongside the values we promote and act as a framework for of non-negotiables for pupils' behaviour ALL staff and children are expected to know and understand what we mean by these words. When responding to children's behaviour, adults should use the consistent language of 'Ready, Respectful Safe.'

Additionally, we actively model and encourage 'golden threads' in the behaviours we wish to see (see Appendix 1):

- Marvellous Manners
- Lovely Listening
- Super Sitting
- Legendary Lining Up
- Wonderful Walking

These rules will be clearly displayed in each classroom and around the school, with additional visual reminders of the expectation within each 'golden thread'.

Our agreements are expressed positively. This underlines our understanding that children learn best within positive, trusting relationships. Pupils spend time exploring (in an age-appropriate way) what the expectations mean through a variety of approaches e.g. stories, circle time, drama, photographs, dance, art, PSHEE, TIS activities, including whole class TIS activities, whole school values, assemblies etc.

- Children should not leave the classroom during lesson time without permission from a member of staff.

Tasks

- All tasks are clearly explained before pupils begin independent work. Teachers ensure that:
- Success criteria or WAGOLs are shared where appropriate.
- Pupils know what they are completing, how long they have, and what to do when they finish.

Pupils are expected to:

- Begin work promptly and use learning time efficiently.
- Follow the steps of the task in order, using resources provided (word mats, manipulatives, scaffolds, etc.).

Promoting positive behaviour

Praise and recognition:

Children at Nansledan are expected to follow the expectations of being 'Ready, Respectful and Safe' at all times and to embody the school values. Staff praise this behaviour and are positive role-models around the school. Where pupils are meeting the school's expectations for behaviour and exemplifying the school's values, staff can reward them using the school reward system.

Positive noticing:

Positive noticing is a simple, practical and highly effective to praise good behaviour whilst building self-esteem and confidence. Positive noticing involves staff actively acknowledging when children have done the right thing. e.g. 'thank you, X, for looking at me.', "I love the way that X is ....", "I am impressed with how Class X is lining up sensibly".

School rewards systems:

In class systems for reinforcing positive behaviours:

'Our Positive Behaviour Chart' (below) will be displayed and used in every classroom.

All children will start on green at the beginning of each day. When children are demonstrating an aspect of ready, respectful, safe or embodying the school values they will move across the reward chart, earning a Dojo point every time.

Children should be awarded for specific successes, with staff naming the behaviour they are praising.

KS2 children will 'reset' back to green at the beginning of each day and after lunch.

KS2 children will be able to earn a maximum of 6 Dojo points a day for consistency across all KS2 classes.

KS1 children will 'reset' back to green at the beginning of each day or when they have got to 'Gold'. They are encouraged to get to gold as many times a day as they can.

Children will never be moved down the behaviour chart or Dojos taken away.

Green	Purple	Blue	Gold
Ready, Respectful, Safe: Aim for Gold!	Well done, you're going in the right direction! You've earned 1 Dojo	Keep up the good work! You've earned 2 Dojos	Amazing!! You've earned a sticker and 3 Dojos

Whole class reward systems:

Each class will have a whole class reward system in place – a 'pom-pom' in the jar.'

At the start of each term, each class should agree on a collective reward they are working towards, such as:

- Class disco
- Skate Park
- Mini sports activity/ field time or similar outdoor activities

The class earns a pom-pom each time they are all following Nansledan's Ready Respectful Safe expectations or embodying the school values. When the jar is full, the class teacher will then organise the class reward. After the reward, the jar will be emptied and the process can start again, with the children having the opportunity to select a new reward.

Certificates for celebration assembly:

- Once a week, during celebration assembly, teachers should award a 'Star of the Week' and 'Values Award' certificate:
- 'Star of the Week' awards will be nominated by teacher for excellence in a focus area / going 'over and above.'
- Values awards will be nominated by teachers for children who have demonstrated this half term's focus school value.
- Miscellaneous certificates for music, reading, sports, etc... are also celebrated.
- Out of school achievements will also be celebrated during celebration assembly.

Head Teacher's Award:

If a child has produced especially impressive work, has gone 'above and beyond', made excellent progress or has demonstrated an excellent attitude to learning, then teachers can send the child with their work to a member of SLT or the HoS for a 'Head Teacher's Award'.

Sharing with parents:

Teachers can, at their own discretion, send home a class 'Super Learner Award.' Teachers should actively seek out opportunities to share successes with parents, especially those who are hard to engage, such as calling home to inform them of a positive day or part of the day.

Responding to poor behaviour

Preventing poor behaviour:

At Nansledan, we use a preventative approach to managing behaviour. Prior to using any consequences or sanctions, staff will do everything in their power to prevent reaching this point. This would happen through:

- Promotion of 'Ready, Respectful, Safe' behaviour across the school.
- Use of positive praise to encourage good behaviour.
- Building and maintaining of relationships.
- Adopting a trauma-informed approach to understand barriers to good behaviour.

When consequences need to be used, we ensure that:

- Sanctions are applied with fair warning and compassion.
- Children are supported to rectify their behaviour.
- As far as possible, discussions about behaviour take place away from peers.

Sanctions for poor behaviour:

Learners are appropriately held responsible for their inappropriate behaviour. Staff will deal with the behaviour which they have witnessed and will pass on information to colleagues as appropriate. Staff will always deliver sanctions calmly and with care, reflecting and using the opportunity for learning from the poor behaviour choice.

All staff should operate our staged approach to sanctions, which allow pupils to identify the next consequence and how they can turn it around. Pupils for whom this approach is not appropriate, will have an Individual Positive Behaviour Support Plan detailing alternative and appropriate system that works for them.

We use an eight-staged approach to manage and modify behaviour that does not reflect our school rules. The stages should always be followed through with care and consideration, taking individual needs into account where necessary. All learners must be given 'take up time' in between stages.

Poor behaviour will be assessed by using the Nansledan Behaviour Stages table to decide whether it should be 'staff' or 'leadership' managed. When certain gross misbehaviour has occurred towards pupils and adults, an immediate response is necessary and will immediately be escalated to SLT.

In the Playground:

The member of staff on duty is directly responsible for pupils' behaviour. Class teachers are responsible for regularly discussing positive strategies and successful resolution ideas within classes. Pupils should be taught strategies for problem solving situations successfully.

Lunchtimes:

Lunchtime staff are responsible for monitoring the behaviours of children at all times. Every lunchtime there will be a member of staff on duty. These will be senior members of staff who will have a radio available and will be able to attend and support.

Restorative approaches:

When an incident occurs, a restorative approach is used to help the child/ren think through their behaviour, its consequences and what they can do to make it better. The aim of this is for children to be able to take ownership over their actions and to repair with those affected.

We will:

- Give the child/ren time to calm down before speaking to them
- Listen to each child explaining what has happened including any witnesses if possible

Reflect and repair:

Children must be supported to reflect on the incident and repair with those affected by the behaviour.

'The Restorative Five' questions approach should be used as a prompt to encourage children to reflect upon their actions. The adult reflecting with the child should use the questions to frame their discussion.

After a reflection, a developmentally appropriate 'repair' should be facilitated between the child and those affected. The repair should be discussed and agreed with the child. The repair could take the form of a verbal apology, a written apology, a gesture of repair (e.g. tidying up mess made), so on.

Restorative Conversations

	Help me understand what happened?
	Help me understand what you were thinking at the time?
	I wonder how this might have made other people feel?
	I wonder what you could do make things right?
	I wonder what you could do differently next time?
