Safer Internet Day – 8th February

Here are some top tips from the UK Safer Internet Centre to support you at home when you have discussions with your child about internet safety.

Always being kind and respectful to others online. Explain to your child that being kind and respectful helps make the internet fun and safe for everyone. This is something you can show them in your own words and actions online too.

Making safe choices. Your child will have to make lots of choices when they use technology and the internet, so talk regularly about what they can do to keep safe. This might be keeping personal information like their school name private. The earlier you start these conversations the better equipped your child will be as they grow older.

Remembering that it's okay to say no to people online. Online friendships can be difficult to manage, but a simple step to help keep your child safe is making sure that they are in control. Discuss how they might respond if someone says or does something that makes them feel uncomfortable. Remind them they never have to do something just because an online friend has told them and they can always come to you for help or advice.

Always telling an adult if anyone or anything online makes you worried, upset or uncomfortable. The most important thing you can do to support your child online is to let them know you're there to support them. Talk regularly about safety online and make sure they know that if anything makes them worried, upset or uncomfortable, then they can come to you for help – and a hug!

Terrific Trips!

Last Friday, our two Reception classes – Jemison and Shackleton – ventured out to explore the local area. They thoroughly enjoyed their walk to the post box where they posted very special letters that had written for their loved ones. The children had been busy all week learning about where they live and writing letters to send home. The outing was a huge success and the children walked so well, listening and following instructions.

The same day, all of our Y1 pupils headed off to the Eden Project as part of their STEAM learning about Polar regions and "How do you look after a penguin?" This was a joyful day with the opportunity to slide about on the ice like a penguin.

This week our Y3/4/5 pupils are visiting Helston Museum and Y2 and Y6 pupils are due to visit the Royal Cornwall Museum next week. We look forward to sharing more photos with you via our social media channels.

Thank you to everyone who has volunteered to help out with these special trips. The children love having you with us.
